PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am a Sophomore at the University of Alabama majoring in News Media and minoring in Psychology. With an eagerness to write and a prowess for interviewing any stranger, I am more than capable to pitch, write and edit any news story given to me. In the three journalistic writing courses I have taken alone, I have covered beats including campus news, education, visual/performative arts and many more. I am also fluent in various Adobe programs as well as website production via Wix and Wordpress. Furthermore, I have connections with numerous professionals in the field including Charles Gaines, author of Pumping Iron.
